

State flower show coming to Flagler Museum in PB

The Florida Federation of Garden Clubs will present its state flower show, "Stop, Look and Listen," Nov. 14, 15 and 16, at the Henry Morrison Flagler Museum in Palm Beach.

The museum will be the background for the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs' artistic designs, horticulture, education exhibits, and youth gardeners with their own artistic designs and horticultural exhibits. There will be exhibits promoting state and national aims of garden clubs. There will also be a number of plant societies with plants to sell to the public.

The Ceramic League of the Palm Beaches will have pottery available, and there will be a boutique filled with items for sale made by members of garden clubs from all over Florida.

The Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association will landscape the area around the front steps of Whitehall and a number of florists will have floral designs in designated rooms.

The Historical Society's meeting room will have a VCR showing tapes on a continuing basis of the "History of Flagler" and "Wildflowers."

The hours are: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday, noon to 4 p.m. Sunday.

Admission is $3. Tickets are available at the door.

Two PSL garden club members win awards at state flower show

Two members of the Rio Lindo Garden Club of Port St. Lucie won top honors at the Stae Flower Show held Nov. 13-16 at the Flagler Museum in Palm Beach.

Janet Hookey was awarded recognition for the best wreath in the show, and Rita Pollnow received the award of distinction for the best design using dried materials.

Claire Provost was awarded a second-place ribbon for the educational exhibit on the culture of orchids which she prepared.

Assisting the judges — who were accredited Flower Show Judges from throughout Florida — as clerks were Rio Lindo Garden Club Members Phyllis Borst, Betty Cline, Elizabeth Ellen, Joan Harstock, Janet Hookey, Rita Pollnow and Ruth Schermer.

Serving as show hostesses were Evelyn Geyer, Lillian Hoffman, Antoinette Massimino, Louise Purchinger, Evelyn Thomas, Gilda Viscintin, Kathryn Vocke, Lois Weaver and Marcia Ytterberg.

The show was sponsored this year by District X of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, which covers an area from Boca Raton to Sebastian.

Mrs. Augustus Williams of Rockledge, president of the FFGC, presented silver trophies, which had been donated by various individuals and garden clubs throughout the state.
